

ITALIAN TROOPS SHORT DISTANCE FROM MAKALE

RAIN-SOAKED SOLDIERS IN KEY POSITION

March Fifteen Miles In Southward Drive

Asmara, Eritrea, Nov. 4.—(P)—Rain-soaked Italian troops today poured into the last of a vast northern region from the old Ethiopian frontier to the Takara river.

An official communiqué announced occupation of all the region of De-gash Mal Nest as far as the extreme limit of Wogoro and beyond Don-golo.

Thus they rapidly occupied heights commanding the rich plain of Ma-gala, their immediate objective on their wayward drive.

Starting at dawn in a torrential African rain, the Blackshirts of Gen-eral Ruggero Santini marched 15 miles to a point several miles past the junction of the Maulein-Agula-Edega Hamus road.

They were backed up by the "Sik-audio" division.

Later in the day the sun came out and the troops, stopping for lunch in Wogoro, stripped off their shirts and hung them from their rifle muzzles to dry them.

Early in the afternoon they marched past an old Portuguese church that is a landmark of the region. They continued in clearing weather until the middle of the afternoon.

When the fascists reached the road junction they were on the edge of a plateau 5,000 feet above sea level, with advance posts still deeper into Ethiopia.

With Eritrean occupied by Piz-zio-Sirelli's African division and detach-ments of Blackshirts acting in Liai-son on their left, it virtually was cer-tain the heights beyond Hamus from Asma Edega Mariani to Dongolo were in Italian possession.

Meanwhile, Gen. Pietro Macavigna's right division of the second army corps, began its advance due west to clear the region of any lingering Ethio-pian forces.

Also on the right, along the Adwa-Makale road, the village of Baraco presumably was occupied by Black-shirts, flanked by three African bat-talions to prevent any flank attack from the west.

Boycott Ships In Three States

New York, Nov. 4.—(P)—A boycott of all ships operating in Alabama, Louisiana, and Texas was called to-night by Joseph P. Ryan, president of the International Longshoremen's Association, as an offensive move to force recognition of the union in those states.

Ryan said the boycott would go in-to effect immediately in North Atlantic ports. He indicated similar action would be taken on the west coast.

"Longshoremen will be ordered not to handle freight on ships operating in ports of Alabama, Louisiana and Texas where owners have refused to do business with us," he said.

"I expect the western district will do the same."

DIRKSEN WILL SPEAK

Washington, Nov. 4.—(P)—Rep-resentative Everett M. Dirksen, Rep-ublican of Pekin, Ill., will address a rally of Republicans in the Fifth West Vir-ginia Congressional District at Blue-field December 14.

Weather

For Jacksonville and vicinity.—The weatherman predicts mostly cloudy weather for today, while Wednesday will be fair. There will be no change in temperature.

The U. S. Cooperative Weather Bu-reau at the Norbury Sanitarium last night reported that a 5 o'clock mer-cury had dropped to 40. The high-est during the day was 69, while the lowest Sunday night was 44. Rainfall was given at .247 inches.

Barometer readings were: A. M. 29.85; P. M. 29.94.

Illinois.—Mostly cloudy Tuesday, preceded by rain in east and extreme south portions, colder in east and south. Wednesday fair in south, un-settled in north, warmer in south-west.

Indiana.—Rain and much cooler Tuesday; Wednesday fair in south, unsettled in north.

Wisconsin.—Snow Tuesday or Tues-day night, slightly colder Tuesday in extreme east portion; Wednesday mostly cloudy.

Missouri.—Fair Tuesday, preceded by rain in extreme south-east, colder in south-east and extreme east-central portions, and rising temperature in west. Wednesday generally fair.

Iowa.—Snow Tuesday, colder at night; Wednesday generally fair.

Farmer Finds Cow Lost 13 Days, in Big Straw Stack

Highland, Ill., Nov. 4.—(P)—A Hol-stein cow, buried for the days under a huge straw stack, was little the worse for its experience today.

The owner, Milton Adler, dairy farmer, reported the cow stolen when he missed it two weeks ago. Digging into the stack yesterday, he found the cow where it had been caught under a slide of straw.

It had suffered somewhat from the lack of water but the straw had pro-vided adequate fodder.

MUSSOLINI TO FIGHT IT OUT WITH SELASSIE

II Duce's Proposals Cannot Be Accepted By Nations

By The Associated Press.
Geneva, Nov. 4.—Benito Mussolini, Geneva believed tonight, intends to fight it out with the King of Kings.

That impression prevailed in League of Nations circles as a drafting com-mittee handled with caution a Cana-dian project to add coal, oil, iron and steel to the "key products" which royal League members may not ex-port to Italy.

Overseers said the "concessions" which Italy allegedly offered to Sir Samuel Hoare, the British foreign secretary, on Saturday apparently were not deemed worthy of the con-sideration of either Great Britain or France.

A resolution drafted on the proposal for lengthening the "key products" list, as Hoare's demand stipulated an appropriate time for banning the added materials, provided informa-tion and reports indicate such an em-bargo stands a chance of succeeding.

Clearly, this was an allusion to the attitude of the United States and other non-League members.

Addition of the four new products to the "key embargo" list, which as it stands is effective Nov. 18, was ap-proved in principle by the sub-com-mittee for economic sanctions earlier in the day.

The sub-committee also discussed, but did not approve, the inclusion of copper, and the consensus of members was that the question of adding sil-ver, materials to the list should be left to the League's main committee.

Just how the League expects to de-termine this policy of the United States, Germany, etc., was not dis-cussed. But apparently, some dele-gates hoped optimistically that the non-members might disclose their at-titude on expectation of the four ma-terials of their own volition.

Payroll Robbers Snatch $25,000 In Currency, Flee

Salem, O., Nov. 4.—(P)—Payroll rob-bers snatched $25,000 in currency from a bank employee late today and crit-ically wounded an unarmed motorist who pursued them.

William Hart, cashier of the Farm-ers National Bank said two gunmen took the $25,000 from L. E. Vincent, on the postoffice steps and fled with a third man in an automobile.

Herman Stratton, 38, of Salem, driv-ing alone on Highway Route 46 north of Salem, was almost run down by the speeding getaway car a few minutes later as it turned from Route 62 into Route 46. He gave chase in the belief, Police Chief Ralph Stouffer asserted, that the men were automobile thieves.

The robbers allowed Stratton to catch up with them, then poured a murderous revolver fire through his windshield, one bullet striking him in the head. Seriously wounded, Strat-ton was able to stop his car.

At the hospital here, Dr. James Mc-George said the pellet entered above the left eye and had not been removed. He said Stratton probably would lose the sight of his eye but had a "fair chance to recover."

DECLARE DIVIDEND

Chicago, Nov. 4.—(P)—Directors of the Standard Oil company of Indiana declared a 25 cent dividend today per share of capital stock, payable Dec-ember 16 to stockholders of record Nov. 18.

BELIEVE PAL OF TERRORIST BLAST VICTIM

Milwaukee Bomber Is Instantly Killed By Explosion

Milwaukee, Nov. 4.—(P)—On the basis of a shred from a blue zipper jacket, police investigators said to-night they believed one of his pals shared the dynamite death of Milwau-kee's terrorist bomber and an innocent child.

The torn bit of cloth was dug from the wreckage of 21 year old Hugh Frank (Idzi) Rutkowski's garage-crime shop where he was blown to bits yesterday while working on a time bomb.

It was identified by his stepfather as part of a garment worn by Paul Chavaneck, 19, when he left home shortly before the explosion at 2:42 p. m. Sunday.

Chavaneck and Rutkowski had been together almost constantly since Oct. 26, when a bomb damaged the village hall in suburban Shorewood. Both had been arrested frequently for minor offenses.

Police were unable to find Chava-neck but detained four other friends of Rutkowski for questioning.

Officials said they believed one might have had some knowledge of the Shorewood bombing as well as that of two banks Oct. 27 and two police stations Oct. 31. They indicated the other three probably were innocent.

Mrs. Ted Mynerak, whose nine year old daughter, Patricia, was killed yes-terday, was reported in fair condition at St. Luke's hospital today. She and her son, Conrad, 4, were seriously in-jured when the explosion reduced the rear end of their house to splinters.

Conrad was described as "a pretty sick boy."

The other 10 injured were recover-ing.

"It looks as if these were only two in the plot," Chief of Police Jacob Laubenhauer said.

"We have picked up 130 pounds of flesh and bone near the scene," Laubenhauer said. "Of course that isn't enough to make absolutely certain it came from two bodies. Moreover we haven't been able to find any two sets of anything, such as eleven fingers or two right arms, but we are continuing our search. I think Joseph Kamuda is Chavaneck's stepfather."

A search of Rutkowski's home dis-covered stolen property valued at more than $200.

Negro Who Hit White Women Is Shot And Killed

Small Band Of White Men Take Suspect Away From Officers

White Bluff, Tenn., Nov. 4.—(P)—A small band of armed white men wrested a negro accused of slapping a white woman from officers on a busy downtown street here today and shot him.

Shortly after the incident, five men surrendered at the jail here, but Sheriff Ed Hunter said no charge was placed against them. He added they would be taken to Ashland City, seat of Cheatham county, in which the actual lynching occurred.

The negro, Baxter Bell, had been charged with assault and battery. Deputy Sheriff Robert H. Williams of Cheatham county said Bell slapped Mrs. Luther Dotson as she alighted from a bus late night near Kingston Springs. She ran and swore out a warrant. The negro, William said, told him "I don't know what I done. I was just drunk."

Today, City Marshal Louis Donnelly and Deputy Sheriff Clyde Petty started with Bell for the Ashland City jail. A small armed band halted the party at the point of guns directed at the officers and drove off with the negro.

Four miles from here, near Kingston Springs, he was shot once through the chest and his body thrown into a ditch. It was left there until the arrival of the coroner.

"They were all just laughing and seemed like they enjoyed what they had done," Donnelly reported. "They told me they shot the negro with my gun. I don't know. It had an empty shell in it when they gave it back to me."

SUES FOR ESTATE

Chicago, Nov. 4.—(P)—A suit for one half of the $130,000 estate of the late James Thomas Kelly, west side "flop house" mixer, was filed today in prob-ate court by Hannah Barbara An-dell, Twin Lakes, Wis.

Miss Andell's bill set forth that in 1911 Kelly stumbled into an ice cam-p at Twin Lakes, suffering from pneu-monia and that she nursed him to health.

In return, she alleged, he promised her $75,000.

BOY WOUNDED

Freeport, Ill., Nov. 4.—(P)—Struck by a bullet when a rifle was dis-charged accidentally, 12 year old Glen Ritchie of Mt. Carroll, Ill., was in a hospital here today. The bullet lodged near his spine.

Milwaukee Bomber Victim Of Own Blast

At least three people were killed and several injured in an explosion on the south side of Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 3, caused by what police think was an attempt by the man who has been terrorizing the city to manufacture a new bomb. The ruins of the garage thought to have been used by him is shown in the foreground, with police and firemen searching for bodies.

WIDOW TELLS SAD STORY OF CHICAGO FIRE

Relates How Husband And Five Children Perished

Chicago, Nov. 4.—(P)—In a voice choked by emotion, Mrs. Theresa Cap-pola today related the sad story of how her husband and five children perished in a fire.

The little Italian woman, aged be-yond her 38 years, was the first wit-ness in the trial of Frank and Joseph Vitale and Joseph De Chiant on charges of murder. The state accus-ed them of setting the torch to a west side tenement—a blaze that cost ten-lives.

Through an interpreter, the widow said: "We were in bed. Suddenly there was a terrific blast. Flames burst in-to our room. Sheets of flame were all around us. My baby threw his arms around my neck. I threw him from a window into the arms of a neighbor. I jumped out too."

"Did you ever see your children again?" asked Judge Joseph B. Davis.

"The next time I saw my family they were all dead except the baby," Mrs. Cappola replied.

She burst into tears.

Spectators, attorneys, attaches and the guards stationed in the court after anonymous letters had warned the defendants would never live through the trial—looked on in tense silence. Defense counsel said something about no cross-examination.

Assistant State's Attorney John Boyle claimed Frank Vitale told his nephew, Joseph Vitale, his grocery business on the ground floor of the tenement was poor and he would like a fire. Joseph took his uncle to De Chiant, the prosecutor said, who agreed to set the blaze for $100 of the $3,000 insurance money. The fire was kindled last Sept. 28, he added, by Di Chiant, who used 15 gallons of gasoline.

He set forth how the trio were be-lieved tried for the death of Little Philip Coppola and urged the jurors to send them to the electric chair.

Corn Huskers Are Ready For Contest Farmer Assaults Deputy With Ax

Chicago, Nov. 4.—(P)—The eleven best corn huskers in Illinois were ready today for the state champion-ship contest tomorrow at El Paso Woodford county.

The elite, best among 30 county winners, were:

George Christman, Tuscola; Elmer Linden, Tiskia; Hartwick Olson, Rio; Joe Endress, Henry; Bea Brown, Alexis; Arnold Subenthal, Wyoming; Donley Martin, Ottawa; Earl Wine-bright, Monmouth; Lee Schuler, Col-fax; William Rose, Kewanee, and Irvin Bauman, El Paso.

Their coach, who held the title held by Simon Olinas, El Paso.

Olinas's winning mark of 23.34 last year was below par because of poor husking conditions.

WILL CHANGE TIME
Chicago, Nov. 4.—(P)—The city council adopted an ordinance today placing Chicago on Eastern standard time year around, effective March 1. The vote was 44 to 3.

An amendment which would have submitted the time change to a refer-endum was tabled.

3 KILLED WHEN HURRICANE HITS MIAMI, FLORIDA

Claims Present Day Tax Laws Penalize Thrifty Young Man

Chicago, Nov. 4.—(P)—Sterling Mor-ton, vice-president of the Illinois Manufacturers' Association, told members of the Junior Association of Commerce in an address today that they "must set forth on your journey to financial independence with a big pack of taxes on your backs."

He said present day tax laws pen-alize thrifty young men and force them to be "socially minded" and "share with those who haven't the get-up to take care of their selves."

"You must hand over a big share of your earnings to support a lot of people who produce nothing, who probably depise you for being suck-ers enough to work for a living, or who sit around in nice 8-to-4 jobs in some government office."

KING GEORGE RECALLED TO GREEK THRONE

Delighted His People Want Him To Return

By Roger D. Greene.
Associated Press Foreign Staff
London, Nov. 4.—(P)—George II of Greece, former monarch whose throne was offered to him again as the result of yesterday's plebiscite in Greece, drew up a proclamation tonight to announce his imminent return to the throne.

"I am delighted," he said during the day, "that my people want me to re-turn to them."

The Greek government announced the Plebiscite showed the people favored George II's restoration by about 45 to 1. It stated there were 1,491,992 votes for the monarchy and 32,454 for continuance of the Repu-blic.

Suddenly turning from the easy ca-lidness of his twelve years of pri-vate life, George plunged into feverish activity. Except for a half hour when he dashed to his tailor for a fit-ting, the reclamation sovereign toiled behind locked doors in his quiet west end hotel.

A telegram from the Greek regent, General George Monyllis, and the council of ministers was handed him this morning by the Greek minister to London, Constantinos Simopulos, former minister to Washington.

The naval reserve radio relayed to the coast guard at Jacksonville a re-quest to search water of the vicinity for a party of three which reportedly put off in a small fishing boat this morning for a gulf stream trip.

The naval reserve learned only the last names of the party, a Mr. John-son and a Mr. Yeoman and his son. It was regarded as a possibility that they made port safely before the storm but had been unable to con-tact their families because of dis-rupted communications.

Sheriff Walter Clark of Fort Lauderdale said Horace Matthews, bridge tender at Dania, was feared lost in the storm and a search was started for him. Reports from Dania said two boys received slight injuries when a piece of timber was blown through a store in which twenty per-sons had taken refuge.

Sheriff Clark posted deputies at the northern lines of Broward county to turn back all motorists not having official or urgent business in Broward or Dade (Miami) counties.

The storm moved into the Gulf at 8 p. m. Eastern standard time, (7 p. m. C. S. T.), slightly north of Cape Sable, about 30 miles south of Ever-gades City.

Word reached here that more than 200 FERA workers and residents of the Keys had reached the town of Homestead safely, but anxiety was felt for persons believed still on Ragged Key, Virginia Key, Long Key and other small islands southwest-ward off the mainland.

Gordon E. Dunn, Jacksonville meteorologist, said the hurricane might regain force over the Gulf and probably would swing northward.

COMMITTS SUICIDE
Concord, Mass., Nov. 4.—(P)—Miss Florence Hoar Bowditch, a debut-ante of last season, member of the Junior League, and socially promi-nent, shot and killed herself today, Dr. Henry Walcott, medical examiner said. He said she "died of self-in-flicted bullet wounds in the abdomen."

LARGEST TAX
Champaign, Ill., Nov. 4.—(P)—The largest inheritance tax probate court officials recalled was levied today against the estate of the late Thomas M. Salisbury, Tolono, Ill., farmer. The tax was set at $59,790.66 on a valuation of the estate of $692,400.17.

HEAVY RAINFALL
Springfield, Ill., Nov. 4.—(P)—Gauges registered 2.51 inches of rain-fall here during the period from 11 o'clock last night until 4 p. m. today. Observers said it was the heaviest fall since spring.

SECRETARY RESIGNS
Joliet, Ill., Nov. 4.—(P)—Warden Joseph Ragen of the Joliet branch of the State penitentiary announced the resignation today of Miss Alice H. Tindall, who was secretary to ten-wards in 40 years of service. War-den Ragen said her successor would be Miss Harriet Hardy, his secretary when he was in charge of the Menard, Ill., prison.

HUNTER KILLED
Granville, Ill., Nov. 4.—(P)—Andrew Romagnoli, 17, Standard, Ill., was killed today when his shotgun was discharged as he climbed over a fence.

COAL EXPLODES
Freeport, Ill., Nov. 4.—(P)—Benja-min Guivelly, 80, suffered the loss of his left eye today when coal which he shoveled into a furnace at his home in nearby Peatonica, Ill., exploded. Police said the coal might have con-tained an explosive.

MURDER CHARGE
Placed Against
Lester Frisch

Kansas City, Nov. 4.—(P)—Lester Frisch, said by police director Otto Higgins to have "talked" when placed in "twilight sleep" was charged to-day with slaying Mrs. Florence Har-lan, 35.

Her nude, tooth-marked body was found in Frisch's apartment last Fri-day.

Frisch, a packing plant employee, was quoted by Higgins as saying he had lived with the woman and dur-ing a drunken quarrel, in which he tore off her red dress and bit her, her head struck a metal bed post.

Police said, however, she appeared to have been beaten.

Until the narcotic-induced "sleep" experiment was tried, Frisch had dis-claimed all knowledge concerning the woman's death.

Traffic Improvement

The traffic situation in the city is somewhat improved. The two-hour parking rule in the business section is being enforced, and local motorists have learned to observe it, co-operating well with the city authorities.

The main difficulty is experienced with people from out of town who are unfamiliar with the rule. A trip to the police station, where they are cautioned in a friendly spirit is usually sufficient. Second violations of the parking rules are rare.

However, the boulevard stop signs throughout the city are still being rather consistently ignored. Running these signs is probably the most common violation of traffic regulations here. It is all right to warn first offenders, but people who persist in running the signs should be dealt with more severely.

Living With The Machine

The fact that productive efficiency has increased during the depression, while unemployment has become an acute problem, proves that man has not learned to live with the machine. There are those who suggest that the machine should be scrapped. Others blame agricultural schools that teach young men to farm more efficiently for whatever surplus of farm products there may happen to be.

These views are short-sighted. We cannot stem the tide of economic progress, but must in some way adjust society to the changes that are taking place. Unless this is done, the increase of the relief load will sap the profits of the new industrial economy, and the uprush of production will outstrip buying power and tumble the industrial organization back to a normal level, with heavy loss to capital wealth.

That there is a tendency of production to outstrip buying power is proved by an analysis of the increase of productive capacity in relation to man-power. It is estimated that seven workmen can now produce the same amount of goods that required the labor of ten workmen in pre-depression years, and that seven months work on the part of our industrial plants will put on the market enough goods to supply the population for a year.

In a recent editorial the St. Louis Post-Dispatch gives the following statistics on increased production efficiency, telling their own story of the rise of the machine:

"The Federal Bureau of Labor Statistics estimates that from 1929 to 1933, what is called the man-hour output (the output per worker per hour) increased 20 per cent. A few concrete examples will show, even more vividly, what has happened. In meat-packing, the man-hour output was 26 per cent higher in February, 1934, than the average from 1929. The woolen and worsted industry showed a 38 per cent gain in November, 1933, over the 1929 average. In the crude petroleum industry the productivity per worker grew 16 per cent from November, 1932, to February, 1934. The five years up to 1934 saw the steel worker, in the same number of hours, increase his output by 16 per cent. From 1929 to 1931 there was an increase of 35 per cent in the rubber tire industry. Examples might be multiplied. Virtually all lines of industry, and farming as well, have been affected."

"Such is the problem created by the machine—the problem of what the economists called technological unemployment. We should have that problem with us in acute form even if we recovered the production levels of 1929. Private industry can help toward its solution by creating a more equitable distribution of the fruits of the machine, but to suggest that private industry, as of today, is solely or even principally to blame for the current failure of employment to keep up with increased production—to offer that facile diagnosis is to ignore the facts at the root of the matter."

Behind The Scenes In Washington

Split Within Year Looms in A. F. of L. . . Lewis Gains in Industrial Union Campaign . . . Roosevelt's Plan to Amend Constitution Is Live Issue . . . Mine Chief Expected to Touch Off Fire-works at January Convention.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal and Courier Washington Correspondent

Washington—A year from now there may be two American Federations of Labor, one of them operating under another name.

Disillusion of confidential reports from labor leaders, certain government observers, and correspondents who were at the Atlantic City convention shows clearly that the battle between the industrial unionists and the controlling conservative craft unionists was but a prelude to what will happen in 1936.

The important thing to remember is that the insurgents polled nearly 40 per cent of the convention vote, whereas never before, on the issue of industrial unionism, had a minority polled even 10 per cent.

Already there are two important labor movements—the A.F.L. and the I.O.O.F., the latter meaning the big following, actual and potential, of President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers.

Most labor students concede that the Lewis group is destined to tramp forward as development of machinery continues to displace skilled workers.

Showdown Next Fall

The question now is whether the industrial unionism will grow inside or outside the A. F. of L.

The battle of Atlantic City will continue through the year. Next fall Lewis and his allies will be in the position of trying to get a majority or actually threatening secession. An secession might come either through a walkout from the federation or an attempt by the old line leaders to throw out the insurgents (in the belief that their salvation lay in a split).

It's doubtful whether the insurgents can get a majority, because the craft unions are thoroughly and rightly frightened by the possibility that their organizations would be destroyed whenever industrial unionism gained an upper hand in the federation.

The split between the factions in the convention vote was about 18,000 to 10,500, and men who have checked the possibilities figure the minority can't get more than 2,000 additional votes in the coming year except by organizing big industrial unions, which the A. F. of L. machine opposes.

Many Look to Lewis

The group which looks to Lewis for leadership includes workers in cement, steel, rubber, automobile, radio, coke, aluminum, and all federal unions which want aid in organizing, plus several unions outside the A. F. of L. such as the Camden shipyard workers.

Lewis, Sidney Hillman of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers, and other like-minded leaders will aid such unions all they can, regardless of the wishes of the A. F. of L. executive committee's majority—just as the miners and clothing workers recently helped

Approve PWA Project to Remove Tracks from Jacksonville's Streets

The comptroller general of the United States yesterday announced the approval of 381 additional PWA projects for Illinois, among them the spending of $12,780 for the removal of all of the car rails on the streets of Jacksonville. The plan is to remove the rails and ties and to repave the right-of-way with the same material as is used for the rest of the pavement on the street.

Skilled Drivers of Jersey County Pass

Young People Successful in Safe Driving Tests After Six-Lesson Course

A number of young Jersey county people have passed the "skilled drivers" examination. It was announced Saturday by Ira Cottingham of Jerseyville who has been the county leader for the Skilled Drivers' club.

Notice of the results of the examination came from the Illinois Agricultural Association and the successful candidates will be sent club buttons in the near future.

Cottingham has conducted a series of six lessons sent out by the I.A.A. and last Tuesday the young folks wrote the prescribed examinations. The highest grades were made by Frederick and Leslie Sinclair, Ralph Erb, and Pauline Voorhees. Others who made good grades were: Allen Rue, Byron Ruyie, Adolph Jenkins, Helen E. Rue, Mary Lois Sunderland, Carolyn Schuster, Gilbert Beiermann, Charles Runghausen, Murray Voorhees, John Cummings, Robert J. Rue, Russell Palmer, Martin Walsh, Virgil G. Searls, Ralph Downey, Donald St. Peters, Raymond Schroeder, and Kenneth Weiland.

Young boys and girls between the ages of fifteen and twenty years were members of the Farm Bureau families were eligible to take the course.

Class Election

The Willing Workers Sunday school class of the Methodist church held its election of officers Friday evening at the regular meeting of the group held at the home of Mrs. Lucille Smith.

Mrs. Velma Pelikan was chosen as president of the group; Mrs. Elmer King, vice president; Mrs. Lucille Smith, secretary; Mrs. Puckett, assistant secretary; Miss Edith Carr, treasurer.

Mrs. Harry Jewsbury was assistant hostess for the evening.

The Camden shipyard strikers.

It will be best to watch closely the convention of the United Mine Workers here in January. Lewis is likely to make more of it than an ordinary convention of an international union. The political implications of events in the labor field probably will become more obvious than ever.

Amendment Live Issue

Few know it, but the administration sent Assistant Secretary of Labor Ed McGrady to the convention for one day to intimate that Roosevelt would be glad to see the federation come out for a constitutional amendment which would permit social-economic and labor legislation.

Nearly two-thirds of the executive committee's members are Republicans. So the amendment proposal was carefully buried—until Lewis and his pals yanked it out at the last minute and jammed it through.

The federation is unlikely to push the issue, which leaves it up to Lewis, who probably will make hullabaloo about it at the miners' convention around the time Congress convenes.

Miners for Roosevelt

Pressure for the amendment might easily prove embarrassing to F.D.R. if the supreme court should approve AAA. Chief controversial measures left for the court to kill off would be the Wagner labor disputes and Guffey coal acts. Roosevelt doesn't want the campaign to turn on a capital-labor issue.

Nevertheless, Lewis and the miners are effectively committed to Roosevelt—an important factor in West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Illinois, and two or three other states.

It's better than an even bet, secession or no secession, that Lewis, if he wants to, can force a vote of endorsement of Roosevelt at the next A. F. of L. convention. (Copyright, 1935, NEA Service, Inc.)

J. W. Bergthold In Closing Statement At NRS Conference

Banquet Ends State Meet Here Sunday; Director Gives Appreciation

The first all-state conference of the National Reemployment Service in Illinois closed with a banquet in the dining room of the Dunlap hotel Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

In his closing statement to the staff of the Service in Illinois, J. W. Bergthold, state director, summarized the work of the service, placing special emphasis on policy and procedure.

"The National Reemployment Service is not a political organization," Bergthold said. "The personnel of the service in Illinois must without exception stick to the rule that all referrals or assignments of men and women to jobs whether they be on emergency work programs or in private employment be made on the basis of the qualification and fitness of the individual for the job offered. Evidence of any failure to comply with this rule on the part of any member or members of the staff will be just cause for the removal of the offending parties."

The speaker expressed his appreciation of the courtesy and cooperation extended to the staff of the District office in Jacksonville by various groups and organizations in helping them to prepare and care for this conference. Those mentioned were the City of Jacksonville, Chamber of Commerce, Troop C, 6 Macoutech council, Boy Scouts of America, the hotels, cafes, other business houses and the NRS Advisory committee.

Immediately following the banquet session the visiting guests departed in automobiles for their homes throughout the state.

St. Louis Pair Wed In Chandlerville

Chandlerville—Raymond Earl Pickrel of St. Louis and Miss Goldie May Griffin of Kirksville, Mo., were united in marriage here at 10 o'clock Monday morning in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Amant, Rev. W. E. Hurtt, pastor of the M. E. church officiating. The bride was attended in a black lace dress, with green accessories. The home was decorated with chrysanthemums.

Mr. Pickrel is president of the Pickrel Wire Net Co. of St. Louis. His bride has been employed for several years as his secretary. Mr. Amant of this city is a close business associate of Mr. Pickrel and manager of his hunting lodge on Vaughn's Bay, west of here.

The couple left immediately after the ceremony for St. Louis. They will return later in the week for a week-end stay at the Pickrel hunting lodge.

CHAMPAIGN VISITORS

Misses Doris Smirl, Dorothy Root, and Florence Aye, all teachers in the Champaign schools, spent the week-end visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. U. Smirl, 326 Prospect street.

Two Drivers Escape Injury When Truck Plunges Into Fence

Big Truck and Trailer of Kansas City Line in Crash at Alexander

Two drivers for The Midstate Motor Freight Line of Kansas City, Mo., narrowly escaped injury at four o'clock Sunday morning when their big truck and trailer added and overturned at the west edge of Alexander. Fairlie Watts, who was at the wheel, and his companion, Harry Conney, both of Kansas City, were able to crawl out of the cab after the crash.

For several hours after the accident the drivers rested and slept on a blanket spread out at the side of the pavement near the overturned vehicle. Passing motorists saw the wreck and the men, but two and two together and the report was prevalent here all morning that "two men were killed."

The truck, loaded with boxes of coals, was enroute from Chicago to Topeka, Kansas. Watts said he has been driving this route for three years and is well acquainted with the sharp curve at the west edge of Alexander. But at the time of the accident the pavement was slippery from rain, and the truck got out of control.

State Highway Patrolman Harvey Dowling went to Alexander and kept traffic moving by the overturned truck. Several yards of fence were crushed when the truck toppled over on the west side of the pavement.

GREENLEAF'S COUPE TAKEN SUNDAY NIGHT

DANTE VISUALIZED

HELL

To the Bible goes credit for the earliest mention of Hell but the popular conception of Hades traces back to an Italian gentleman of the 14th century by the name of Dante and a poem he wrote called "A Vision of the Inferno." In other words the Bible set Hell up in business, but it was Dante who made it a ravine proposition. Dante's Hell was a real Hell to the people of his day and as a matter of fact is very real to millions living now.

Other millions of us, however, believe that Hell is not a place but a state of mind. ... we aren't sent to a Hell, we make one of our own. Now comes a Fox picture combining these two conceptions of Hell. In many ways it's a quite remarkable picture. It has breathtaking shots in the Inferno sequence. It has a shipwreck strikingly similar to the Morro Castle disaster. And it has a strong love story. In addition to its exciting melodrama it will set you to thinking ... and wondering ... about this Hell business ... the picture opens at the FOX ILLINOIS Thursday for a 2 day engagement.

DARK ANGEL

A picture is coming to the FOX ILLINOIS next Sunday that is the very soul of life and love. "THE DARK ANGEL." It is a romance that will make the heart of the world beat faster; a magnificent cast starring beautiful Marie Oron as the girl between two loves ... Freddie March as the man who would not share his dim future with her ... and Herbert Marshall as the one with whom she could not share her memories.

Tablet to Daughter Of 1812 Dedicated At Patriotic Rites

Miss McCormick's Memory is Perpetuated With Official Marker

Francis Scott Key chapter, United States Daughters of 1812, held an impressive ceremony Sunday afternoon when a marker was placed on the grave of Miss Ann McCormick, a "Real Daughter" of the War of 1812 and member of the local chapter.

Members and friends gathered at the grave in Diamond Grove cemetery to do honor to the memory of Miss McCormick, who was one of the few remaining persons in the United States whose father served in the War of 1812.

The services were opened by "Assembly call" on the bugle by Bernard Strongman. The exercises were in charge of Mrs. Henry Wm. English, state chairman of grave markings. The honorary president of the local chapter.

In her remarks, Mrs. English paid the following tribute: "My friends, what a patriotic privilege is ours today, what a heritage to know and have as one of our members a child of one of the heroic souls, who defended his country and preserved for you and me the blessings which we so richly enjoy in this great northwest. The living links of our 1812 soldiers have almost disappeared and have joined their patriot sires in the great beyond."

Real Daughters Gone
"At one time we had in Francis Scott Key chapter four 'Real Daughters'. With in the past two years three have slipped away. One of the duties required by the United States Daughters of 1812 is to aid, comfort, and to add in every possible way to the pleasure of these 'Real Daughters'. These women serve as reminders to inspire us to love our country and to clasp the hands of our noble manhood and together keep our country the best of all nations."

"The destiny to a large measure is dependent upon its womanhood, for unless the women are patriots, pure and noble mothers, we can not have fine citizens. With all the earnestness at my command I beg the Daughters of 1812 to give yourselves to the forming of your sons and daughters, that there will be no need of reforming our youth. They are the citizens of tomorrow and no nation is greater than the type of her citizenry."

"Then let us draw inspiration from this 'Real Daughter' who was our friend and a precious link with our hero, Walter McCormick, who sleeps at her side, and let us recall our heroes past and present whose ranks extend from Lexington to Argonne, our standing army of the dead."

Mrs. English's tribute closed with the placing of the replica of the original Star Spangled Banner by Mrs. J. Marshall Miller, officer in the local chapter, and a beautiful rendition of the Star Spangled Banner on the bugle by Bernard Strongman.

Unveil Bronze Marker
The ritual of the National Society, U. S. Daughters of 1812, was used in placing the memorial marker, which was of bronze inscribed with the name Ann M. McCormick, Real Daughter, U. S. Daughters of 1812. The ritual was most effective as read by Mrs. Roy Davenport, chaplain, with responses by the audience. The wreath, with the white carnation, the floral emblem of the society, was placed on the grave by the president of Francis Scott Key chapter, Miss Carolyn G. Tift. The marker was unveiled by Elizabeth McCormick, great-grandniece, and Robert McCormick, great-grand-nephew of Miss McCormick. The flag and chapter flag were displayed with appropriate ceremony by Mrs. Jean Lane and Mrs. Lewis Sims. A tribute from the National society was read by Mrs. English.

were given by Rev. W. C. Meeker, pastor of Westminster church, which were impressive in their reference to the spiritual nature of the member whose memory was cherished by all who knew her. The Salute to the Dead was given by the firing squad from the American Legion, and Taps was sounded by Bernard Strongman, with echo Taps by Donald Robinson, bugler.

Legion representatives in the firing squad were: W. Gard, Paul Seymour, H. I. Simmons, Charles Willoughby, E. F. Spaulding, J. C. Walsh.

Soil Conservation Field Trip Planned In County Thursday

Will Visit Projects of CCC Workers; Review Things Being Done on Farms

On Thursday November 7th, from 9:00 a. m. to 12:00 p. m., the Morgan County Soil Conservation Association in cooperation with the Supervisory personnel of the Soil Conservation Service camp in Jacksonville, have arranged for a field trip.

This trip will cover some of the projects worked on by the local CCC boys since the camp was established last July.

All farmers who are interested in seeing how soil erosion can be controlled are urged to attend.

Trucks from the camp, from where the trip will start at 9:00 a. m., will furnish transportation for those making the trip. The CCC camp located in Jacksonville is doing a work which is of interest to many Morgan county farmers. The 200 boys who comprise the camp are in charge of four army officers and the soil conservation service which is their main activity has a personnel of nine men headed by Camp Supt. B. C. Taylor. The camp was established July 1, 1935. The Farm Bureau, realizing the value of this service to the farmers of Morgan county cooperated actively in establishing the camp and for a time provided office space for Supt. Taylor. Agronomist T. J. Shambaugh, Engineer R. P. Weeber, and Technical Foreman G. T. Hamilton.

Farms Where Work is Done
Farms on which projects have been or are being worked on, include the G. E. Houston farm, the C. A. Tuttle farm, the J. W. Dodsworth farm, on which C. F. Trent is tenant, the H. E. Ogle farm, the V. L. Bourn farm, the G. F. Fox farm with O. F. Hill as tenant and the Hall Bros. farm with E. S. Ring as tenant. Other farms where erosion problems have been worked out are those of Leland Ferber, Harvey McLain, Burrus Bros., A. W. Wautman and Fred Six.

Some of the problems worked out are the more simple ways of checking small gulches, seeding grass waterways and thus preventing sheet erosion. On some farms, the more serious problems of terracing, masonry dams, and various types of checks have been required. Some projects also include plans for a tree planting program. The present and future value of the Soil Conservation Service to the farmers of Morgan county is not easily measured in dollars and cents, but the practical application of scientific principles of the much-neglected subject will pay dividends far into the future.

Committee Directs Plans
Realizing that soil erosion is among the most serious problems on many farms today, and appreciating that there will be constant need in the future for prevention and control measures, the Soil Conservation Service is cooperating with the Farm Bureau in all counties where there are such CCC camps, and a county association is being formed. In Morgan county this association is already underway with a board of directors consisting of William K. Ransdell, president, Franklin; M. M. Barlow, secretary, Jacksonville; Chester A. Thomsen, treasurer, Chapin; B. C. Taylor, supt., Jacksonville; T. J. Shambaugh, Jr., agronomist, Soil Conservation Service, Jacksonville; G. T. Hamilton, Jr., technical foreman, Jacksonville; L. C. Arnold, attorney, Jacksonville; J. Willard Dodsworth, Franklin; Frank Rolf, Jacksonville, and F. A. Seymour, Waverly; Fred Six, Jacksonville.

WHAT THE MILDNESS OF CAMELS MEANS TO FAMOUS AVIATORS

Lieutenant Commander Frank Hawks, U.S.N.R., famous holder of 214 speed records and the Harmon Trophy, says: "I've been flying for 19 years and smoking Camels almost as long. Making speed records tests the pilot as well as his plane. Camels never make me jumpy or bother my physical 'condition' in any way. As the athletes say, Camels are so mild they don't get the wind. And I've found they never upset my nerves. Camel must use choicer tobaccos."

"Camels don't get your Wind" Athletes say

"Speaking of cigarettes, I make it a rule to smoke Camels," says Mrs. T. W. Kenyon, sportsman pilot. "They are the mildest cigarette I know. Morning, noon, and night, I can smoke Camels steadily. They never upset my nerves. And each Camel renews the zest and enjoyment of the last one!"

"They Never Get on Your Nerves"

"I appreciate the mellow flavor of Camels," says Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith, the transpacific flyer, in a recent interview. "Camels refresh me so when I'm fatigued," he continues, "and they are so mild that I can smoke any number without throwing my nerves off key."

"They Never Tire Your Taste"

"I smoke Camels all I want," says Col. Roscoe Turner (below), "cross-continent speed ace. 'Because of their mildness, Camels never tire my taste. A speed flyer uses up energy just as his motor uses 'gas.' After smoking a Camel, I get a 'refill' in energy."

Marvin Ommen and Verna Fricke Wed In Pretty Service

Ceremony at Parsonage of Lutheran Church Joins Well Known Couple

The marriage of Miss Verna Fricke and Marvin Ommen, both popular young people of this community, was solemnized Saturday at 4 o'clock at the parsonage of the Lutheran church north of Chapin, with Rev. J. H. F. Sieving officiating.

The double ring ceremony was used.

The young people were attended by Orval and Lorna Fricke, brother and sister of the bride.

The bride was attired in a costume of green flat crepe, with black accessories.

The bridesmaid wore a gown of rust flat crepe.

The groom and best man were attired in dark suits.

After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the bride's home to only the immediate relatives.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fricke of near Chapin.

The groom is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Ommen, also of near Chapin.

Saturday evening about three hundred friends and neighbors treated the newlyweds to a rousing charivari.

After November 4 they will be at home to their many friends and neighbors on a farm rented by the groom, seven miles east of Meredosia.

Christian Church Has Veterans In Important Duties

Several Have Served Thirty Years and More; Miss McCarty Honored

Central Christian church takes a pardonable pride in having upon its staff men and women who have served for long terms of years.

Miss Hattie Hayden is in the thirty-seventh year of her service as primary superintendent; G. L. Mathis has served for more than thirty years as superintendent of the Bible school; Frank Burns has served a quarter of a century as chairman of the board of deacons; Miss Esther Carlson has been superintendent of the junior department, for twenty-four years; Miss Alice Mathis has served twenty-three years as organist and Dr. M. L. Pontius is in the twenty-second year of his pastorate. Others have served for a decade in their various places in the church.

Miss Adelaide McCarty is beginning her fourteenth year as secretary of Central Christian church; having come to the present position after four years of service in the University of Illinois. Miss McCarty is a native of Jacksonville, she graduated from the local high school and has always been active in the social life of the community.

Sunday morning at the close of the church service in behalf of the Central church Dr. Pontius presented to Miss McCarty thirteen roses, one for each year of her service as secretary. Central church has a well equipped office and the continued, efficient service of Miss McCarty is greatly appreciated by the large congregation.

Phone Officials Of This City Will Go To State Gathering

Illinois Telephone Company Will Be Represented at Peoria Convention

A number of officials and employees of the Illinois Telephone Company will go to Peoria next week to attend the thirty-first annual convention of the Illinois Telephone Association, November 14 and 15. Representatives of the 400 or more telephone companies in Illinois will gather at the Hotel Pere Marquette, convention headquarters.

The local delegation will include J. H. Dial, vice president of the Illinois Telephone Company, accompanied by Mrs. Dial; W. C. Randall, operating superintendent; Russell Saylor, plant chief; Miss Zula Groves, cashier, and Miss Irene Goodall, chief toll operator, who will appear on the program. This annual meeting is held to afford telephone folk an opportunity to meet and discuss their mutual problems and to learn new and improved methods in telephone work that will enable them to render the highest quality of service to their customers.

Prominent Speakers
Prominent and well known federal, state and telephone representatives will appear on the program, including: E. N. Woodruff, mayor, Peoria; Louis Fletcher, general manager, Dixon Home Telephone Co., Dixon; V. Y. Dallman, collector of internal revenue, Springfield; H. D. Lokenbill, assistant to the collector, Springfield; Martin Phillipsborn, Jr., assistant supervisor Legal and Research Division, Department of Finance, Springfield; John N. Van der Vries, manager, northern central division, Chamber of Commerce of the United States, Chicago; R. G. Roadstrum, president, the Illinois Telephone Association, Galesburg; Ben E. Boynton, general counsel, the Illinois Telephone Association, Springfield; F. B. MacKinnon, president, United States Independent Telephone Association, Chicago; A. H. Schellinger, vice president, Illinois Bell Telephone Company, Chicago; and R. A. Lumpkin, president, Illinois Southern Telephone Company, Mattoon.

School for Operators
One of the highlights of the Illinois convention is the Traffic School for operators, supervisors and chief operators. Carefully selected and well trained women must operate the switchboards in order to enable telephone companies to render courteous, accurate and efficient service to their customers. The well known "Voice with a Smile" does not "just happen." It is acquired through intensive training in "Voice Technique." Some of the most expert traffic people in the state will appear on the program.

R. G. Roadstrum, president of the Illinois Telephone Association will act as chairman of the men's meeting and Mrs. Mayme Workman, traffic supervisor of the Illinois Telephone Association will conduct the operators' school.

A banquet and dance will be held on Thursday night with entertainment by a high class group of entertainers and musicians directed by Frank Bennett of Chicago.

On Friday afternoon a group of twenty-one talented members of the Bell Players Club of Chicago will present a three act drama entitled "Counselor at Law." The members of this group are employees of the Illinois Bell Telephone Company. The convention will close with a theatre party on Friday evening.

With improved business conditions and a more optimistic outlook a large representation from the 400 telephone companies in the state is expected.

REVIVAL AT CHURCH OF GOD CONTINUES TO ATTRACT CROWDS
A capacity crowd was present at the Church of God Sunday night and heard Evangelist Volght speak on the subject of "Jesus Saves from Sin." Rev. Volght said "sin wrecks the life and destroys the soul, but God is interested in the sinner. God is so interested in the sinner that He sent His Son to die for them and save them through His blood."

He said "Salvation saves from sin in the home, from sin in the heart, in the life. From the state of sin at the judgment and from sin forever."

Berniece Probst led the large audience in an inspiring song service and Wilma Probst played the piano. They sang two beautiful special hymns. A large group of both young and old were present to hear them speak and sing at the young people's services. Their messages and songs were edifying.

The revival will continue throughout this week with the services beginning promptly at 7:30 p.m. Rev. Volght will present the gospel message each evening and the girls will have charge of the music and song.

The public is cordially invited to attend all services.

Topcoat Time

At this time of the year we can't help but think of one particular coat in our stock. It seems to appeal to more of our customers than any other coat. Of course there are reasons for this preference. It has a soft, silky finish that gives it the appearance of being a much higher priced coat—then it does not wrinkle very easily which is another big factor in its popularity—and it is heavy enough for the coldest day. Of course we have this coat in all colors, all patterns, all sizes, and all models. We call it the Velvet Finish and it retails for... $23.50

Its companion coat is the luxurious Vicuna Fleece, a trifle heavier but not too heavy. See these two coats if you are going to need one.

Also a big line of Topcoats and Overcoats in the popular checked patterns as well as solid colors. These have sport backs, 1/2 belts, full belts, raglans, etc.—almost any type of coat $14.95 and $16.50 for men and young men

New Berlin Holds Community Party

Many Young People Attend
 Wiener Roast at Park;
 Social at Church

New Berlin—The Halloween party
 last week sponsored by the Booster club in cooperation with the New Berlin Woman's club, was enjoyed by a large number of young people. The boys and girls masked and assembled at the high school, then marching to Wabash park, where prizes were awarded for the best makeups.

The parade was in charge of E. C.
 Coulter, G. P. White and Charles Greenwood.

A large reviewing stand was erected in the park for the convenience of the judges. James Loving, Loanis, Lyman
 Smith and Thomas Irwin of Pleasant
 Plains.

After the prizes were awarded the young people gathered around glowing logs, which had been lighted during the afternoon, and enjoyed a wiener roast. After 126 pounds of wieners were disposed of, the pavilion was opened for dancing with music by Loving's orchestra.

Farwell for Minister

One hundred and seventeen persons gathered in the Baptist church
 Thursday evening for a Halloween party, and as a farwell for Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Dalton who will go to Pontiac to take charge of the Baptist pastorate. While the children enjoyed a party in the basement, the older people met in the auditorium for a program.

Songs were given by Mr. Kemp and
 Mr. Wennsborg. Two duet numbers were sung by Rev. and Mrs. Dalton, their own compositions. The music was followed by several games and contests.

Later in the evening the young and older people assembled for music
 Scripture reading and a farwell praying by Rev. Dalton. All went to the basement, where refreshments were served by a committee of which Mr.
 A. E. Washburn was chairman.

Personal Mention

Mrs. J. W. Sullivan of Springfield spent Thursday calling on friends and attending the regular meeting of the Catholic Order of Foresters.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lovell of Springfield were guests last week of
 Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Luby.

Misses Sallie Batty and Dorothy
 Batty of Waverly were guests one day last week at the home of Miss Bees Maxwell.

Miss Rose Knust was hostess to members of the Mu Beta club at a theater party in Springfield recently.

Mr. and Mrs. George Seymour of Franklin spent Saturday afternoon in the city.

 vember 21st and 22nd, were announced yesterday to be as follows: William Batey and Harry Bischoff, buyers for Swift Packing Company; Roy Overly and Tom Price, buyers for American Packing Company; and B. Trotter, head buyer for Hunter Packing Company.

About 180 entries consisting of 4-H boys and girls from three states have already been registered. So far the state of Illinois leads with approximately 21 counties, Missouri next with 9 counties and Arkansas ranks third in number of counties being represented in the show.

All 4-H Club members and students of Vocational Agriculture in Illinois, Missouri and Arkansas are eligible to enter calves in the Producers Show, which is one of the

Resident of Jordan Street
 Was Highly Respected;
 Daughters Survive

Emma Goldman Dimmitt was born
 Oct. 2, 1857 and passed away at her home on Jordan street, Nov. 3, 1935.
 She was united in marriage with Frank W. Dimmitt in Feb. 1880. Her husband and two daughters, Celia
 Dimmitt and Florence Griffith, preceded her in death.

She is survived by two daughters,
 Merle Dimmitt of Jacksonville and Lena Dimmitt of Los Angeles, California, and by two grandsons, Francis
 E. Griffith of Menominee, Wis., and Donald Griffith of Jacksonville, Ill.

In her early life she was united with the Methodist church and has been a constant attendant ever since, with the exception of the past year when her health began to fail.

She spoke often of how much she enjoyed her Sunday school class and the Christian fellowship of her church but on account of her quiet unassuming nature never took any active part.

She was a loving, dutiful mother, an untiring worker in the home, always keenly anxious about the welfare of her family.

She was more desirous of serving others than to receive service.

Funeral services will be held at the
 A. G. Cody & Son Memorial Home at
 1:30 p. m. today, Rev. Havighurst officiating.

Interment will be made at Griggs-ville, Ill.

Donald Ransdell represented the

Give Basket Dinner At Virginia Home

Mrs. Jane Mefford Hostess To Group; Other News From Virginia

Virginia, Nov. 4.—A number of relatives and friends enjoyed a basket dinner Sunday at the home of Mrs. Jane Mefford. Among those to enjoy the occasion were Mrs. Annie Rogers, Miss Ollie Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Gooden and children, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Meiers and family, Mrs. Alma Newberry and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Newberry, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Newberry, all of Waverly; Mrs. Fannie Stevens, Auburn; Mr. and Mrs. Will Rogers and daughters, Modesto; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Mullen, Mrs. Dena French and daughter Virginia, R. L. Thompson, Miss Norma Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Mefford and sons of this city.

The Misses Sue Elizabeth Finn, Savie Stokely and Cecil Jacobs of Hocking, Kansas, returned home Sunday after a several days visit with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Finn. Chelsea Taylor, student at the University of Illinois, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Taylor, of Hickory.

Herman Smith and Harry Bailey spent Sunday morning in Beardstown. Emma Harris has purchased the Thompson property from J. H. Peterson. Mr. Harris and family have been living in this property since their home was destroyed by fire several weeks ago.

A. E. Crum, receiver of a bank at Beardstown, spent the week-end here with his family. At a party at her home in Beardstown Saturday, announcement was made of the marriage of Mrs. Dorothy Young to Byron Edwards of this city. The young couple were married at Ottawa, Ill. on Aug. 28th by Rev. McClellan of the Presbyterian church, and have kept their marriage a secret until Saturday. Mrs. Edwards is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nelson of Beardstown, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Edwards of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Scheibgen and daughter, Veronica, Miss Jane and Ann Yowell, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Long and son, Mrs. Lila Wilson and John Robert Graves were among the Sunday Jacksonville visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Wiscot and Mrs. Lois Holman visited in Petersburg Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Smith and son moved Saturday from rooms at the Dour garage to the Livingston property.

Robert Meenas and Miss Jane Lee Davis, local high school students, will be members of the all-state high school chorus which will appear on the program of the State Teachers institute in Urbana, Nov. 21 and 22.

Miss Helen Frances Brutow of Chicago spent the week-end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Brutow.

Lee Flynn, who resides near Prentice, pleaded "not guilty" to charges of driving a car while intoxicated and reckless driving, filed this morning by State's Attorney C. G. Colburn, when arraigned in the Cass County Court this morning before Judge Lloyd M. McClure.

W. R. VonTobel, Springfield, attorney for the defendant, made a motion to quash the information, which motion was overruled. Judge McClure set the bond at $500.00 and Flynn was able to furnish bond.

VonTobel asked for a jury trial, and the matter was set for a hearing on November 29th at 9 o'clock. Attorney Walter Bellotti of Jacksonville transacted business in this city today.

J. J. Baggs, Gene Allen, W. R. Yancy, and Geo. Kendall of Ashland were business visitors in this city Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Strubling spent Sunday evening in Jacksonville. Ray Williams of Chicago spent the week-end with his mother Mrs. George Sutherland.

Pred Conover and son of Springfield were business visitors in this city Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Seth McClintock and daughters spent Sunday with relatives in Edinburgh.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Modjeski of Chicago spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Blighan. Mr. Blighan returned after a visit in Chicago.

Miss Dorothy Nel Gibson, who is employed in Chicago spent the week-end with her mother, Mrs. William Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron E. Mills and sons of Jacksonville spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Nellie Mills.

Miss Frances Ann Sinclair spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. James A. Dodds in Springfield.

Mr. Otto Dour and Miss Catherine Collins spent Saturday in Springfield.

Rain Stops Drills For Local Elevens

Blueboys Only Team Booked For Week End Engagement: Others Play Nov. 11

A downpour of rain nearly all day yesterday put a damper on preparations for games in local football camps, but coaches were not particularly worried. Skull sessions and post-mortems were the order of the day, a welcome relief to both players and teachers as the closing weeks of the season rolls around.

Illinois College is the only team booked for a week-end game, Routt and I. S. D. looking over their arid forces for their annual combat Nov. 11, while J. H. S. lays the groundwork for what it hopes will be a torrid finish, beginning at Virginia on Armistice day.

Past their homecoming game in good shape, the Blueboys began laying plans to meet the North Central Cardinals at Naperville next Saturday. There is nothing bright in the outlook, according to the coach, but the squad appears to be in good physical condition when injuries are discounted, and the work they have cut out for them will be chiefly that of developing some reserve energy to meet the charge of the heavy North Central team.

There was only a short skull session for the Blueboys as they checked in for the week's work. Nusspickett plans work-outs for Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights, and intends to take the squad at least part of the distance to Naperville Friday.

The coach coupled the Cardinals in a game a couple weeks ago, and had another scout on hand Saturday when they won a 6-0 game from Elmhurst, topping the Elmhurst club from the Little 19 leadership.

Coach S. Robey Burns kept his victorious Tigers indoors as he began mapping his campaign plans for Routt high, while Coach Wallace Baptist, back with his squad after going through a period of bereavement, also kept the routed Routt team in the dressing room for a chalk talk and a discussion of the Routt plan for continuing the string of Routt wins over the Tigers.

I. S. D. is looking ahead to the Routt game this year, for they feel that this is their year. They have been working with this game in mind almost since the season began, the Tiger coach bringing his boys along so that they would hit the top of their form on Armistice day.

Fully expecting to find Virginia back on their feet after their unexpected set-back at the hands of Rush-

Meat Prices Fall As Hearty Meal Season Arrives

Economic Law Of Supply And Demand Pulls Values Down

Chicago, Nov. 4.—(P)—With the hearty meal season of the winter months at hand, the economic law of supply and demand was credited today by market observers, with having taken a healthy, and well timed wallop at meat prices.

Prices today, after declines of 30 to 35 percent in the wholesale fresh pork prices the past month and smaller reductions in other pork cuts, beef, lamb, and veal, have moved most to a favorable place once more among the candidates for the market basket, they said.

The recent gain in stockyard receipts was given the principal role in this development in the daily diet picture.

"Hallelujah!" say the housewives. Was the comment of Mrs. Wilbur Friley, president of the Housewives League of America. She said she expected a decided diminution in consumer complaints against meat costs, which packers have termed inevitable when economic law pinches.

Sharper declines in wholesale meat prices, however, occurred recently in Chicago and normally retail meat prices fluctuate in parallel.

Football Banquet Held At Greenfield

Coach Ray Nusspickett Is Speaker At Event Given By Business Men

Greenfield.—The Greenfield Business men had at their guest Monday evening at their monthly business banquet, Coach C. F. Hubbell and his high school football squad, Coach Raymond Nusspickett of Illinois college at Jacksonville addressed the gathering.

The high school Home Economic class and all members who had previously taken this course met Thursday with 27 in attendance and organized a Home Economic club. The officers elected were: President, Helen Harr; vice-president, Irene Baumgartner; and Helen Hart, secretary and treasurer. The club will meet each month. The first meeting will be held at the farm home of Martha R. Tipps with a hamburger fry.

Refreshments were served by the Legion Auxiliary. Announcement was made that the Junior Legion drum and bugle corps will be guests at an Americanism program given by the local Knights of Columbus Thursday evening.

MISS HELEN HAMILTON ENTERTAINS AT WINCHESTER

Winchester, Nov. 4.—Miss Helen Hamilton entertained a number of friends at a party Thursday evening. After serving light refreshments the guests went to the home of Mrs. Herbert F. Pinn and "Prince and the Pauper," (3) the saddest period of disillusionment.

He then proceeded to interpret briefly the outstanding books in each period. In "Innocence Abroad" Mark Twain revealed his responsible individualism to himself and others; in "Roughing It" he showed his romantic appreciation of the minor, the desperado, the Easterner, the Westerner; in "The Glided Age" he pictured the romanticist in Colonel Sellers and disclosed the eastern lobbying and exploitation by a seething stream of satire.

His wife encouraged him to leave realism alone. Then he gave this country Mark Twain, that great personality of middle-age reminiscences on early romantic days on the Mississippi and in the river front days; he gave those immortal, typical frontier figures, Tom Sawyer and Huckleberry Finn, breathing the very breath of frontier philosophy. And then he wrote "Personal Recollections of Joan of Arc," still revealing the fun-lover; "Prince and the Pauper," including a serious vein to show that our social superstructure was enjoying a tremendous change; and "Connecticut Yankee at King Arthur's Court," a very serious expose of superstitious Christianity embedded in the Middle Ages. And this ended Mark Twain.

Anniversary Of Mark Twain's Birth Observed

A. A. U. W. Branch Hears Hoyt Franchere

A meeting of the Jacksonville Branch of the American Association of University Women was held in the social room of MacMurray College Monday evening. In commemoration of the centenary celebrating the birth of Samuel Clemens, the members enjoyed a very interesting talk on Mark Twain, given by Professor Hoyt C. Franchere of the English faculty of Illinois College.

Mr. Franchere introduced his talk by stressing that fact that Mark Twain's personality is so sure a part of us that he needs no material memorial; yet one is being erected on November 30 in Hannibal, Missouri.

The speaker approached his discussion by referring to Mark Twain's background as that of the romantic era, the building up of the great Middle West, the great frontier from 1835-1870. This age reacted most definitely upon the writer's vivid and romantic personality. His philosophy was that of the frontier.

Mr. Franchere reviewed the early experiences of the author, touching upon his apprenticeships to a printer and so to a writer as well, and then to a steamboat pilot, all of which developed for him a most colorful era of romantic possibilities. And he painted Mark Twain's lively reaction to this romantic age. Next the speaker mentioned the gold rush trip from which Mark Twain escaped to California, soon taking up the task of writing under the influence of such writers as Artemus Ward and Bret Harte. His commercial success in lecturing followed.

He married a wife who had the vital spirit of being his guiding light and severest critic. After his marriage he enjoyed fine travel and remarkable contacts; because of his force of personality and his being Mark Twain he had entrance to all circles, local and foreign. Then he got into the publishing game and lost lots of money. At 51 he made a comeback and paid off his debts by lecturing at home and abroad. Like all idealists and romanticists, he now learned the bitter lesson that all things are not so good.

In the second part of the lecture Mr. Franchere discussed the topic, "What has Mark Twain left for us?" He divided the writer's works into three groups: (1) That of his early work, the hack writing, hastily and foolishly done, the beginnings of the fun-loving personality, the frontier personality; (2) The Middle Age period, including "Life on the Mississippi," "Tom Sawyer," "Huckleberry Finn" and "Prince and the Pauper," (3) the saddest period of disillusionment.

He then proceeded to interpret briefly the outstanding books in each period. In "Innocence Abroad" Mark Twain revealed his responsible individualism to himself and others; in "Roughing It" he showed his romantic appreciation of the minor, the desperado, the Easterner, the Westerner; in "The Glided Age" he pictured the romanticist in Colonel Sellers and disclosed the eastern lobbying and exploitation by a seething stream of satire.

His wife encouraged him to leave realism alone. Then he gave this country Mark Twain, that great personality of middle-age reminiscences on early romantic days on the Mississippi and in the river front days; he gave those immortal, typical frontier figures, Tom Sawyer and Huckleberry Finn, breathing the very breath of frontier philosophy. And then he wrote "Personal Recollections of Joan of Arc," still revealing the fun-lover; "Prince and the Pauper," including a serious vein to show that our social superstructure was enjoying a tremendous change; and "Connecticut Yankee at King Arthur's Court," a very serious expose of superstitious Christianity embedded in the Middle Ages. And this ended Mark Twain.

In the 1890's he felt pressures of his financial and family responsibilities, of his disillusion. He is no longer essentially a humorist. In his "What Is Man?" or in his "Autobiography" he showed how appalled he was by the lethargy of the human race. Being sick to death from the evil he saw, he composed most bit-satire. And he did not live long enough to balance the sinister with the beautifully romantic side. But the final figure, the Tom Sawyer and Huck Finn Mark Twain are still loved.

The students of the American prose class of MacMurray College, who have recently studied Mark Twain, were guests. A social hour followed, with Miss Alida Alexander, chairman of the hostesses.

Millikin Almost Assured of Share of Title; Illinois College Is Tied for Seventh Position

Chicago, (P)—With six teams grouped in the front rank of the standings today, the Illinois Intercollegiate conference is apparently headed toward another double entry on the roll of football champions.

Millikin almost assured itself of championship honors last week by conquering Lake Forest, 24 to 0. After three victories in league games, Millikin's path is now barred only by the Bradley eleven which has won but one title conflict and has dropped three.

Knox and Monmouth, with records of two victories and no defeats or ties, may be left to settle the other share of the championship to their own satisfaction. The two elevens will clash Nov. 28 in the game that now looms as the most important on the remaining schedule.

Northern Teachers, State Normal and McKendree, undefeated but all charged with ties, may also cut themselves in for a share of the title glory. Normal and McKendree clash this week, however, in a game that should clinch one from further consideration. Illinois Wesleyan, Eureka, and Eastern Teachers remain on the Northern Teachers' schedule.

The standings:

Millikin 3 0 0 1000
Knox 2 0 0 1000
Monmouth 2 0 0 1000
State Normal 2 0 1 1000
McKendree 2 0 1 1000
Central 2 1 0 750
Elmhurst 2 1 0 667
Augustana 2 1 0 667
Illinois Wesleyan 1 1 0 500
St. Viator 1 2 0 333
Carthage 1 2 0 250
Bradley 1 3 0 250
Western Teachers 1 3 0 250
Lake Forest 0 1 0 000
Winston 0 1 0 000
Southern Teachers 0 3 0 000
Eastern Teachers 0 3 0 000
Eureka 0 4 0 000

Results last week:
Friday—Eureka 0, State Normal 13.
Saturday—Elmhurst 0, North Central 6; Eastern Teachers 0, Illinois College 26; Monmouth 21, Carthage 0; Bradley 0, Illinois Wesleyan 6; Southern Teachers 12, McKendree 12; Lake Forest 0, Millikin 24; Dubuque 0, Augustana 21; St. Viator 3, Ferris Institute 7; Cornell 6, Knox 1.

Games this week:
Friday—Southern Teachers at Cape Girardeau (Mo.); Teachers; Knox at Coe.
Saturday—"Illinois College at North Central; "Northern Teachers at Illinois Wesleyan; "State Normal at McKendree; "Carthage at Bradley; "Wheaton at Eureka; "Western Teachers at Augustana; Beloit at Monmouth; Indiana Central Normal at Eastern Teachers; Lake Forest at Albion (Mich.); Elmhurst at Aurora. Sunday—St. Norbert's at St. Viator. —Indicates conference game.

Pleasant Hill 0 5 0 000

Games This Week

Friday—Carrollton at Greenfield; Pleasant Hill at Jerseyville. Armistice day—White Hall at Roodhouse; Winchester at Pittsfield.

Curtains were being hung in some of the Illinois Valley football camps for their final jaunt across the scene this week and next as the season finishes with a blaze of football glory. Two contests in the league this week, and two more on Armistice day, will all but wind up the fireworks.

On paper, it seems that Roodhouse is already in as this year's champions. They have only White Hall ahead of them, and they have had two weeks to get ready for them. The powerful Roodhouse team will complete its season against Jacksonville high in Jacksonville the five days after their battle with White Hall.

Pleasant Hill, Jerseyville, and Winchester will walk off the football stage either this Friday night or on Armistice day. White Hall has yet to meet Carrollton, the game falling after the battle with Roodhouse. Greenfield plays at Pittsfield and the Indians finish at Quincy.

Roodhouse fans will consider it treason to figure White Hall has a chance in turning back the Railroaders, but this screw season may yet turn up something in the Illinois Valley league. Games have been running according to dope but there is time yet for a spill.

There will be plenty of activity down in Greenfield this Friday night when the Carrollton ball-hawks go over to battle it out in one of those county and conference games which have been some of the keenest competition through the years. The scrap will be particularly interesting this year, for on its outcome will hinge the chances of both teams to finish in second place. They are now in a triple tie with White Hall for the position.

Pleasant Hill's heavy conference schedule probably will keep them from getting out of the cellar even if they are able to turn back Jerseyville in another wind-up game. Pleasant Hill hasn't won a conference game as yet, but Art Lethrop's team looked like a bunch of willing youngsters against Winchester.

Legion meeting tonight.

Farm Bureau Board Endorses Tax For Sanitarium Here

Set Date For Annual Meeting
Here December 11;
Hear Reports

The Morgan county Farm Bureau executive board in session Monday voted an endorsement of the tuberculosis tax, which is an issue at today's election. It was explained at the meeting that a favorable vote for the tax does not mean that an additional tax is to be levied for the fight against tuberculosis in this county, but it is for the continuance of the tax to support Oklahoma Sanitarium. Despite heavy rains which prevailed during the day only two members of the executive board of 18 were absent from yesterday's Farm Bureau meeting.

The date for the annual Farm Bureau meeting here was set for December 11. This event which annually draws hundreds of Farm Bureau members and their families will be held at the Central Christian church. L. A. Williams, manager of the County Life Insurance company, will be the speaker of the day.

Plans for attending the annual Illinois Agricultural Association convention at Decatur next January, were also discussed. The executive board also voted to take Morgan county Four-H club champions to the grain and livestock show at Chicago next month.

Reports were made at yesterday's meeting by Lawrence Oxley of the insurance department of the Bureau and Claude Jewberry of the oil company. David R. Reynolds, organization director, announced that the Farm Bureau membership here now totals 1,087.

W. F. Coolidge, of Carlinville, newly appointed Farm Adviser, attended the meeting.

KEROSENE EXPLODES,
DAMAGING KITCHEN
ON PRAIRIE STREET

A kerosene stove exploded in the home of Philip Reddingfield, 505 South Prairie street, last night, resulting in a blaze that damaged the kitchen.

The fire department was called about 6:30 o'clock, but upon their arrival found that the blaze had already been extinguished. The firemen had hardly arrived back at the station when another alarm came from the Reddingfield home. On this trip the firemen found that the fire had penetrated the walls and was burning wildly.

A line of hose was laid and axes were brought into use to get at the fire, which was quickly extinguished. The flames were confined to the kitchen of the house.

DISMISS CASE AT HEARING "ABOUT A DOG"

A dispute over the ownership and disposal of a "dog" was carried into the court of Justice of the Peace C. S. Smith yesterday afternoon by Robert Lindsay and Richard Lewis, the former being the alleged owner, Lindsay claimed that Lewis had borrowed the dog for training purposes, failed to return him, and later traded the animal to another person.

Don Stealey, appearing as counsel for Lewis, made a motion for dismissal on the grounds that the value placed and the charge of an illegitimate trade had not been proven. Justice Smith dismissed the case.

NOTICE OF EXAMINATION

An examination for teachers' certificates will be held November 7 and 8. For further particulars see Victor H. Sheppard, county superintendent of schools.

Mercedia calls here yesterday included Miss Mary Luken.

Fete Winchester Pastor Sunday

Winchester, Nov. 4.—The members of the Winchester Baptist church and their families gave a surprise basket dinner in the church dining room following the services Sunday morning upon the occasion of the 9th anniversary of Rev. P. V. Wright's pastorate at the church. The affair was a complete surprise to the minister as he was called back to the church Sunday noon on the pretext of a wedding at the church to find 150 assembled at dinner in his honor. Rev. and Mrs. Wright were seated at a table with the Board of Trustees and the Deacons of the church and were presented with a cake bearing a candle.

Following a dinner the following program was presented:

Soliloquy by the Bean Orchestra.

Vocal Duet—Ed. Cowick and Miss Martha Higgins.

Remarks—Walter Scott.

Vocal Solo—Miss Louise Frost.

Remarks—Claude Thomas.

Response—Rev. Wright.

Instrumental solo—Misses Mary and Elsie Bean.

Isabell Potts Of Manchester Is Taken By Death

Funeral Services To Be Held
Wednesday At Methodist Church

Manchester, Nov. 4.—Isabell Potts, 90 year old resident of this community, passed away this afternoon at the home of her nephew, E. F. Cuddy, with whom she has made her home for the past few years. Lucinda Isabell Clark, daughter of Edward J. and Sarah Clark, was born March 14, 1845, on a farm west of town where she grew to womanhood, and in 1872 with her parents moved to Manchester. On March 22, 1894, she was united in marriage to John H. Potts of Jacksonville, living at the Potts home in that city. After the death of her husband, she returned to Manchester, making her residence at the old Clark home until the death of her sister, Mrs. Virginia Hughes, which occurred Nov. 26, 1932.

Since that time she has made her home with her nephew, E. F. Cuddy. Mrs. Potts has spent her entire life in Manchester with the exception of the years spent in Jacksonville. She has been a faithful member of the Methodist church since childhood, having been converted at the Shiloh church near her country home. Later her membership was transferred to the Manchester church where she was in active service as a teacher in the Sunday school up until three years ago.

Her father, E. J. Clark, passed away in 1889, and her mother, Sarah Clark, in 1899. Mrs. Potts was one of seven children, all who have preceded her in death. She leaves three nieces and nephews and a number of grandnieces and grandnephews.

Funeral services will be held at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning at the Methodist church. Rev. A. C. Pentland will be in charge of the services. Interment will be at Diamond Grove cemetery at Jacksonville.

Since that time she has made her home with her nephew, E. F. Cuddy. Mrs. Potts has spent her entire life in Manchester with the exception of the years spent in Jacksonville. She has been a faithful member of the Methodist church since childhood, having been converted at the Shiloh church near her country home. Later her membership was transferred to the Manchester church where she was in active service as a teacher in the Sunday school up until three years ago.

County Commissioner To be Elected Today; Vote on T. B. Tax

Beginning at six o'clock this morning Morgan county voters will ballot on the question of continuing the tax for support of Oak Lawn tuberculosis sanitarium, and will cast votes for their candidate for County Commissioner. The candidates for a place on the county board are Richard B. Oxley, Republican, and Clifton C. Davis, Democrat, present chairman of the commissioners.

While the heavy rain which drenched the county yesterday is expected to cut down on the total number of votes to be cast today, workers for the two candidates expect to combine to bring out a substantial number of voters to the 43 precinct voting places.

The forecast of the weather for today is cloudy with no mention of rain, and if the downpour does not continue during the time the polls are open brisk balloting is anticipated.

Altho this is an "off year" election, the total vote cast is not expected to be as heavy as a review of other elections for commissioner shows that in some of the "off years" a remarkably heavy vote was cast.

Back in 1927 when J. C. Becker and the late Charles A. Rose made the race, a total of 11,148 votes went into the ballot boxes, with Becker being elected.

Two years later, in 1929, an apathy seemed to seize the voters for they cast only 3781 votes when A. H. Meglison defeated C. P. Hedrick for commissioner.

In 1921 there were 4458 votes for commissioner; in 1925, 5169; in 1931, 5655, and in 1933, 8307.

Predicting a rather light vote, some election observers believe the total today will be somewhere between 3,000 and 7,000. The weather will be watched, as it has a considerable effect on rural precincts.

The board, of which Mr. Davis is a member, is composed of two Democrats, Davis and William Rees and one Republican, Walter Fearey. Fearey is the only Republican elected at the county election a year ago, Rees having been chosen at the election in 1934.

Ballots of county voters today will decide whether or not the Oak Lawn Sanitarium is to continue. The issue is a tax question, the voters to decide whether or not a tax is to be collected for the continued maintenance of the institution, and is not a question of a new tax.
